organize within the Comenius IEEPS project “Improving education effectiveness of primary schools”:

International scientific conference
„Improving quality of education in elementary schools”

14 October 2016
Belgrade, Serbia

The most important aim of the conference is to promote research findings on the factors of quality education in elementary schools (primary and lower secondary education). The conference is focused on identification of the most important determinants of attainment of functional knowledge, development of critical thinking, motivation and interest, and acquirement of other positive education outcomes. The conference intent is to encourage open dialogue and closer cooperation between the researchers, policymakers, teachers, education counselors and school principals. More information on the project within which the conference is organized can be found at <http://ieeps.edu.rs/sr/>.

Main conference topics are:

- Individual factors of education outcomes (socio-economic, psychological and other)
- Factors of quality teaching (teachers, teaching methods, classroom climate and others)
- Improving education at the school level (school climate, cooperation, leadership and other factors)
- Education policies and education outcomes (school evaluation, curriculum, teacher professional development, school financing and other factors)
